

So if you put yourself into the story and being to think about how it would be if you were at that wedding...

what does the story say to you about the nature of Jesus? (with respect to his mother, disciples, the bride & groom) what does the story say about extravagance?

how might you feel once more wine comes...

as the bride or groom?

as the master of ceremony?

as a servant?

as Mary?

as a disciple?

what does a miracle do? does it change you?

in your own life, can you think of a time that you experienced a miracle?

how extraordinary of an event would it take to convince you of who Jesus is?
